SACHEM

The alarm clock is ringing. You open your eyes and see it's pitch black outside. It's very difficult to be enthusiastic when you know you have to be at school by 8:15. In the meantime your little brother is sleeping in his room. You have the sudden urge to wake him up. He gets to sleep late. However, you still make it to school on time. You've got a lot of things to do and say before the day comes to an end.

LIFE STYLES

Susan Smith, Julie Garrett, Dinah Wright and Robin Clowdis utter melodious sounds.

Mrs. Lamb and Mrs. Campbell root their horns in the convo.

Mr. Everett and Ms. Saxon decorate the FCA Christmas tree with twinkle lights.

Santa Claus, alias Jerry White, passed out candy.

The piñata, made by Spanish III class, was finally broken by Mr. Little.

Liz Saxman casts a spell on her civics class.

Feline Lynn Wagner purrs through senior English.

Husband, Fred (Katy Briggs), daughter, Gertrude (Barb Bowers), and wife, Ethel (Mari Gibson) were a happy family on Halloween.

Halloween And Christmas Were A Blast!

Several students came to school in weird costumes on October 31st. There were a devil, a rabbit, a cat, a couple of members from the band Kiss, and a very strange family with a few teeth missing.

The FHA, FCA, OEA, Art Club, Spanish Club, and German Club joined together on the evening of December 10th. Christmas caroling through the streets of Cowan, breaking a piñata, decorating a Christmas tree, and eating cookies and drinking hot chocolate were the activities of the night.

There was also a X-mas convocation before school was let out for the winter holidays. The teachers sang an amusing version of "The Twelve Days of Christmas." FCA, the school choir, and the band performed. Santa Claus brought everyone candy too. All in all, the holidays produced a lot of spirit and fun.

Donna Craig does her best to help the junior team to a victory.

The senior girls showed determination during the rug-o-war.

Greg Dick leaped into the Homecoming activities with great enthusiasm.

Halls, Floats, Games

Once again, Cowan's Homecoming was a great success. Everyone involved enjoyed the activities, putting a lot of time and effort into the float and hall decorations. The seniors placed first in the hall contest, the freshmen placed first in the float contest and the eighth grade had the highest overall score in the games. Even though we lost the basketball game, it didn't keep everyone from having a super time at the dance. Two Cowan alumni, Scott Scales and Jeff Clevenger were the disc jockeys.

The freshmen came in first with their Snoopy float during Homecoming. Walking alongside are Scott Ring, Julie Hobbs, Sherri Pierceall, Missy Foster, and Bill Koons.

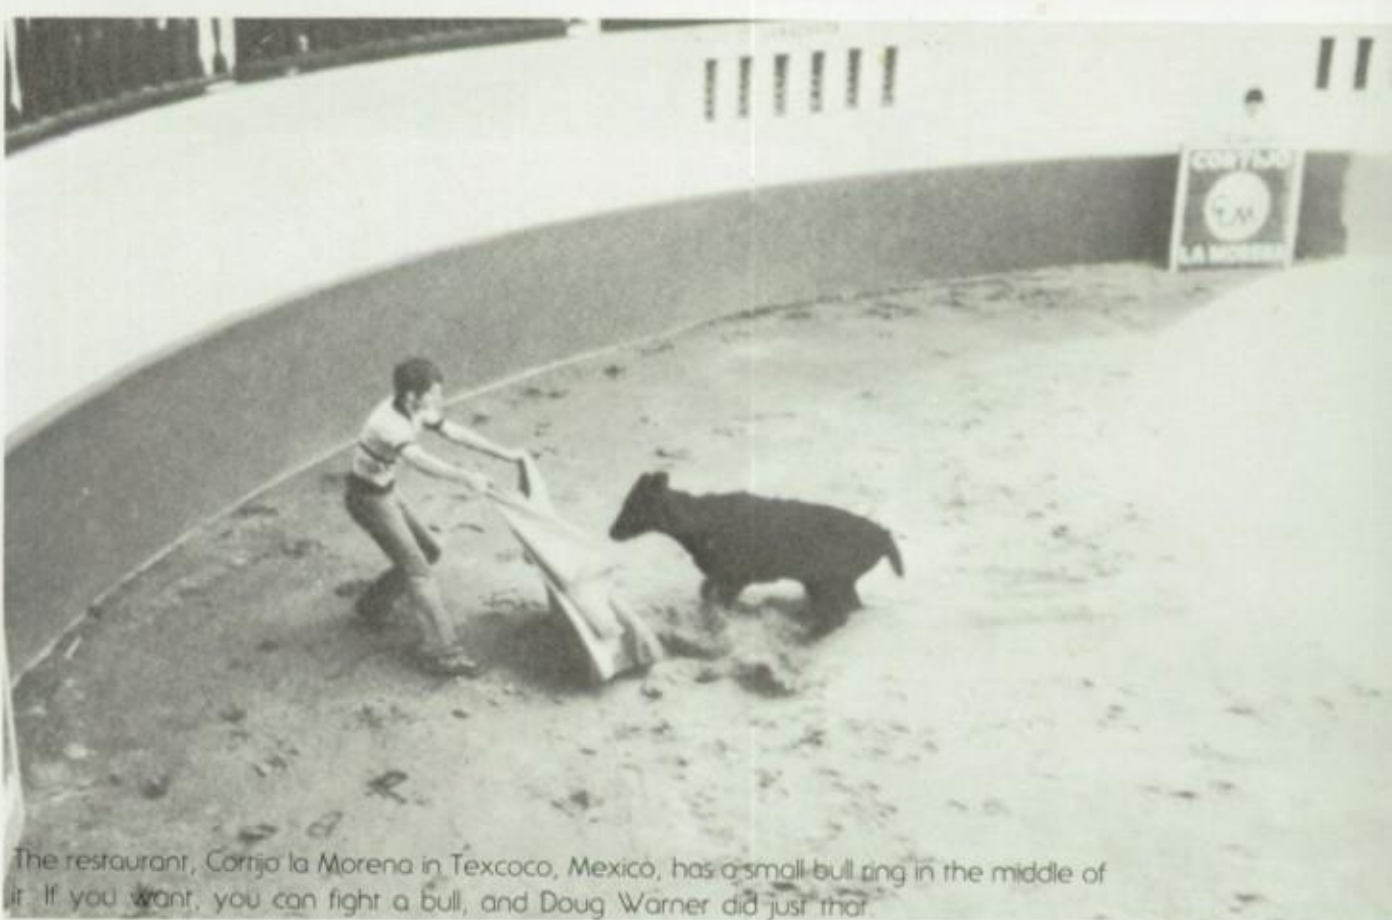

Susan Sell hopping toward a victory

Some students along with Ms. Garner escaped to West Germany last summer to try a different style of life.

The Linderhof, a small eight-room castle, was built by crazy Louis XVI in Germany. What makes it so extraordinary is that the walls and just about everything else in the castle are 24-karat gold.

Ms. G., Bruce Garrett, Ken Harden, Mark Elcesor, and Mike and Bill McCullagh relax on their six hour Rhein cruise.

The restaurant, Corrijo la Morena in Texcoco, Mexico, has a small bull ring in the middle of it. If you want, you can fight a bull, and Doug Warner did just that.

Taking A Break From Everything

Let's face it, the six-hour-and-45-minute-long school days were just about one in the same. From listening to daily announcements, to rushing frantically from one class to another, to carrying books home to do assignments, a routine life was set. But vacation came to rescue us from the monotony.

Slowly but surely, icy guests of winter changed to cool spring breezes and warm sun, and thoughts were of spring break. Vacation started before the usual time for some who left two to three days earlier to get a head start on driving to Florida. Others jetted to Mexico. All wanting the sun, the heat, the fun and a tan.

Doug Warner as Bar, and Kelli Wright as Ger were asked to perform at the teachers' Christmas party.

Performances By Our Performers

Coordination is essential to ensure clear conveyance of a plot in any play. It is also necessary for each student to be molded according to his own talents. Creativity, properly channelled, is the key to success.

Last fall there was a performance put on by the Drama Club, Thespians, and some elementary students titled Sockin' Buskin' Afore the Footlights. This production included four short plays. One in particular was Bar n Ger, a one act play, starring Doug Warner and Kelli Wright. These two remained stationary, and used no props throughout the performance. They went from their childhood to Bar's death. It was very touching; even members of the audience were crying.

The Thespians, Drama Club and other students also gave their best in the spring production, Seventeenth Summer. They spent two months memorizing lines, building sets, and practicing as rehearsals every night of the week. They did an excellent job, being praised by all.

Brenda Turner tells Kary Briggs not to forget her lines and not be nervous.

Applying make-up is the backstage performance. Here Ginger Cunningham makes up Carrie Cline's eyes.

The basketball team let their fingers do the talking.

The Spice Of Life

As the famous quote goes "Variety is the spice of life." Cowan students found this to be true last year, not only in the Variety Show, but in convocations and pep sessions as well.

In the convocations, race car driver Bob Hartkey pushed for safety in the streets, mentalist Bob Reams fascinated students with his hypnotism, and the teachers captured many smiles with their own version of the "Twelve Days of Christmas."

Pep Session skits ranged from the dating game to sign painting, and from pie throwing to teacher imitations. The band played, and the coaches and players played with words. Whatever the case, there was participation from coaches, players, cheerleaders, and students.

The young, old, and in-between came out to display their talents in Cowan's annual Variety Show. Dancing and singing, instrumentals and acrobatics were performed by people whose ages varied from 7 to 18. Everyone was a winner, as a good time was had by all.

Molly Keith "quotes" Miss Moore on U.S. history.

The seventh graders fought hard with clenched fists in class yell competition.

Fourth grader Melissa McKnight played "The Entertainer" in the Variety Show.

Race car driver Bob Hartkey gave Cowan students tips on driving.

Hypnotist Bob Reams tells Jenny Flowers to go to sleep.

Teachers Honor Students

The Honor Convo was held May 16 in the high school gym. Certificates were given to those with perfect honor rolls. Certificates and medals were given for English, health, geography, history, physical education, science, biology, physics, mechanical drawing, industrial education, band, home economics, family relations, typing, shorthand, general business, intensive office laboratory, library science, psychology, Spanish, journalism, accounting, geometry, calculus, trigonometry, algebra, general math, chemistry, German, social studies, art, conservation, woods, Thespians, 4-H, and Student Council. The top ten in each class were recognized, as were the office aides, Boy's and Girl's State delegates and alternates, All Round Boy and Girl, Valedictorian and Salutatorian, and recipients of DAR Good Citizen Certificate, NHS collars for seniors, Purdue University Honor Certificates, scholarships, Honor Chords, and I-Dare-You Awards. In all, 473 awards, certificates, and medals were given.

The Music/Sports Banquet was held in the elementary gym on May 22. Casey Cloyd, a Cowan graduate, served as Master of Ceremonies. Those recognized were: all junior and senior band members, drill team, choir, Pep Club, Cheerleaders, Spirit Mates, Mascots, volleyball, cross country, basketball, track, golf, and baseball teams.

As a sophomore, Kip Miller had the most rebounds and assists on Ron Slaton's Varsity Basketball team.

For being the outstanding senior in band, Band Director Barry Byrd gave Teresa Koger the John Phillip Sousa Award.

Sponsor Rosella Lamb handed our Senior Honor Chords to Gaylene Peacock and Dinah Wright.

Thespians Kelli Wright and Jerry Johnson were given awards by Germaine Keogh for outstanding acting.

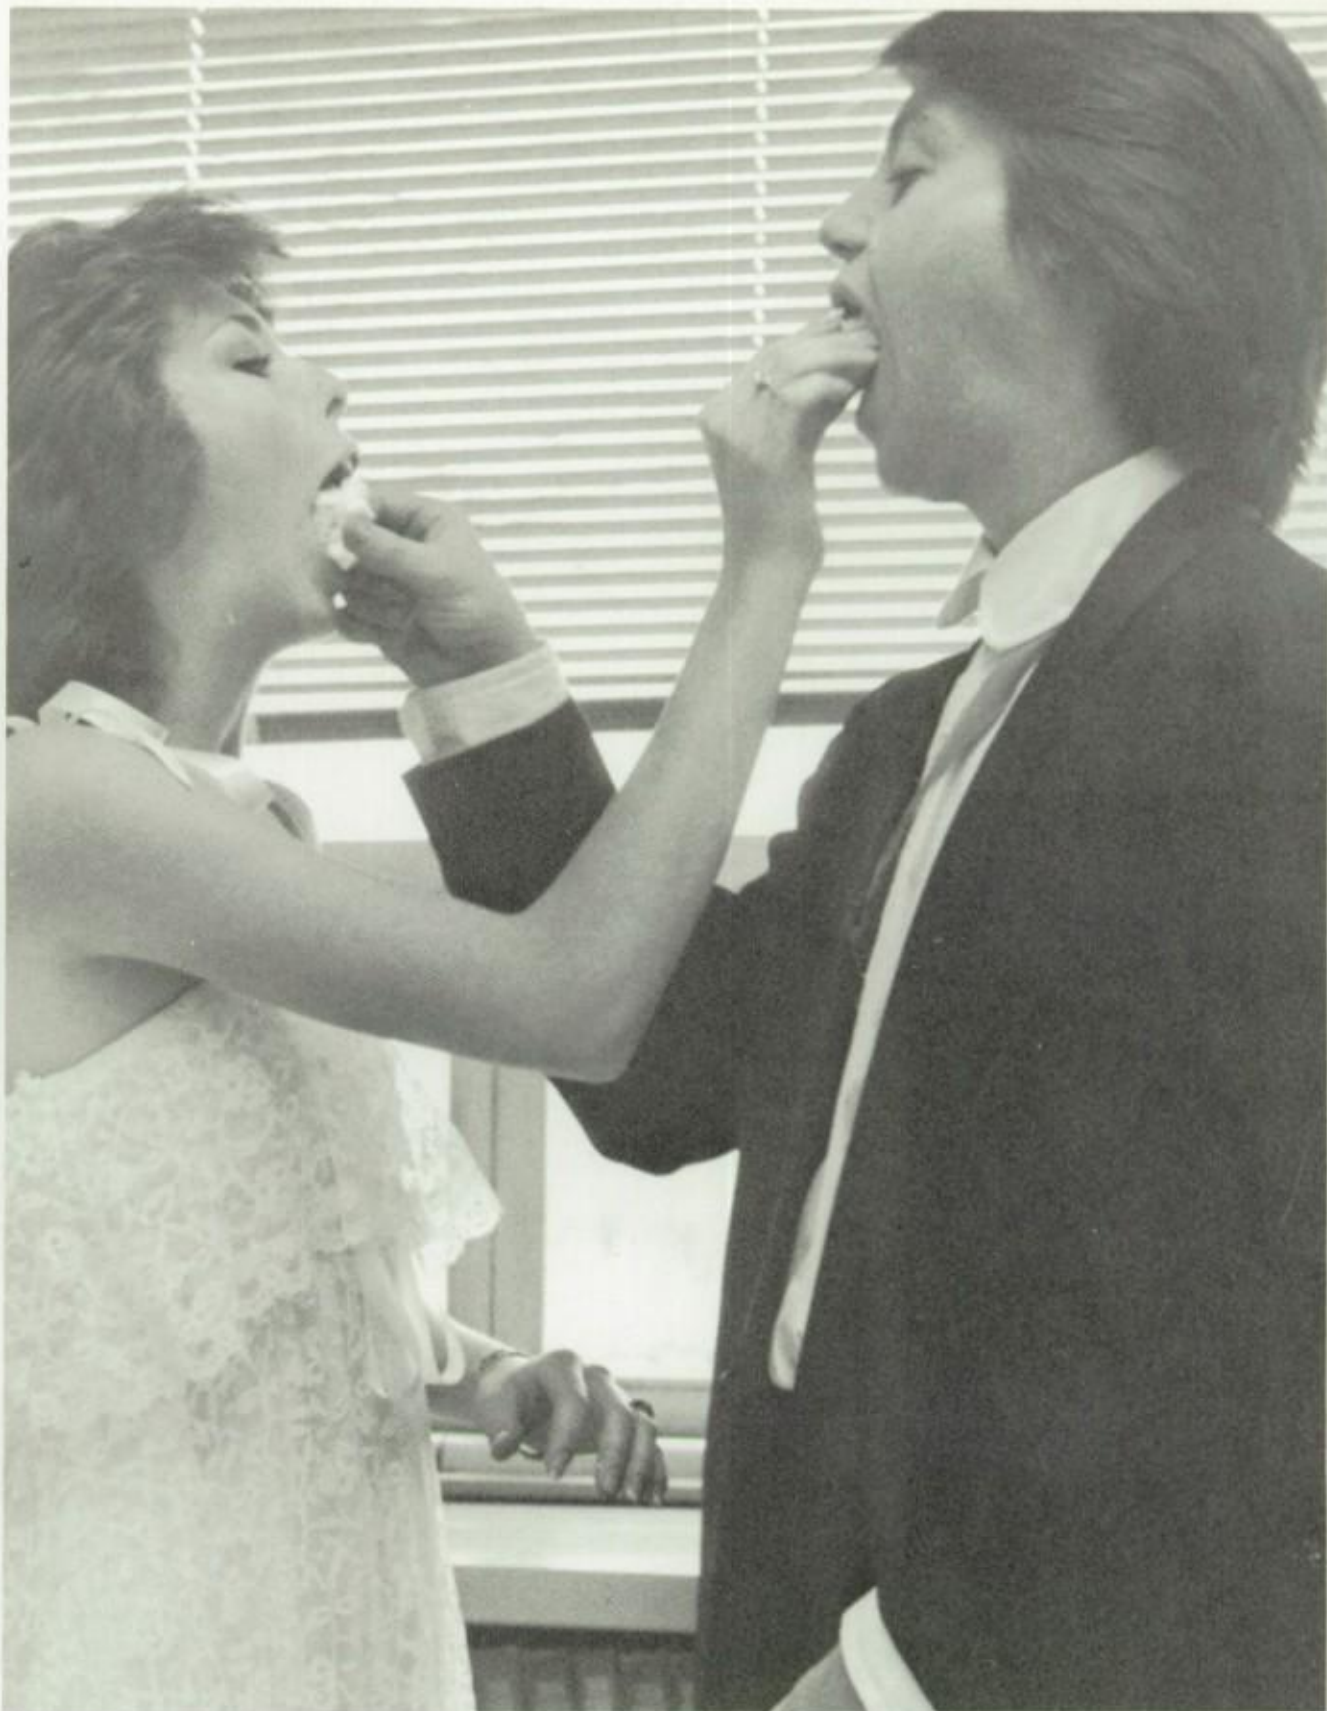

Salutatorian Tom Smith received the Storer Scholarship from Principal Larry Nicholson.

The most valuable runner in Junior High Girls' Track was Kim Smothers.

Kelli Wright and Jerry Johnson feed each other the traditional first bite of cake.

Toasting to good times are Brenda Turner and Orvie Miller.

As is the custom after the wedding, the couples drove around Cowan in David Flowers' vehicle that Janice Lawson and Teresa Koger helped decorate.

Ducking from the rice are Randy Peck and Missy Shafer.

Lorri Paschall and David Flowers cut their cake that was baked by Doris Lawson, Janice's mother.

Janice Lawson was the preacher for the first semester weddings.

Getting Married While In High School

A semester course at Cowan that is offered to seniors is family relations. This class prepares students for life after graduation. The class agenda includes planning a budget, engagements, marriage, having children/parenthood, a tour of Ball Hospital, and a mock wedding. This past year, seven couples were married: Jill Gilland and Ed Shirey, Brenda Turner and Orvie Miller, Kelli Wright and Jerry Johnson, Colleen Kessler and Bill Ulrich, Scarlett Padgett and Bob Haskett, Missy Shafer and Randy Peck, and Lorri Paschall and David Flowers. A lot of good times and memories were shared by the class and the instructor, Nancy Campbell.

Through their eyes, Debby Morrow and Rick Robins share many secrets.

A Perfect Evening

Under the heavenly mist of moonlight, the junior class presented This Night Won't Last Forever in the Cowan Elementary gym.

The evening began with trying to get ready on time — the girls making sure their hair and make-up were perfect, and the guys trying to figure out how their cummerbund went on. Then parents wanted to take 10 to 15 pictures, each a different pose.

Finally the couples arrived. Soon all were talking and looking at what everyone was wearing, and not believing their eyes. Could some of their friends get dressed up that much?

A gourmet buffet of roast beef and ham, escalloped potatoes and other delicacies was served. The colors of the senior class were silver and lavender. Lighted candles of lavender surrounded with silver angel hair decorated the tables. The favors were crystal goblets.

The band, Forecaster, from Muncie played top-pop-rock hits for four hours of dance and entertainment. During a break, junior class president Dave Brand announced Jill Foster as the 1980 Prom Queen.

When the prom festivities were over, everyone gathered at the Bowl-A-Mat for hours of bowling fun. As the still hours of the morning crept up on the couples, some went to breakfast, some went to parties, and others took the long way home.

At last, it was over and as the stars shone bright, everyone knew it had been a perfect night.

Jill Foster and Lee Craig slow danced by themselves after she was crowned Queen.

Prom Queen Jill Foster, her court, Julie Garrett and Kim Miller, and their escorts, Kary Briggs dancing the night away.

Being polite, Richard Lee serves Lori Brandon escalloped potatoes.

Angie Covington played the xylophone in "Pomp and Circumstance."

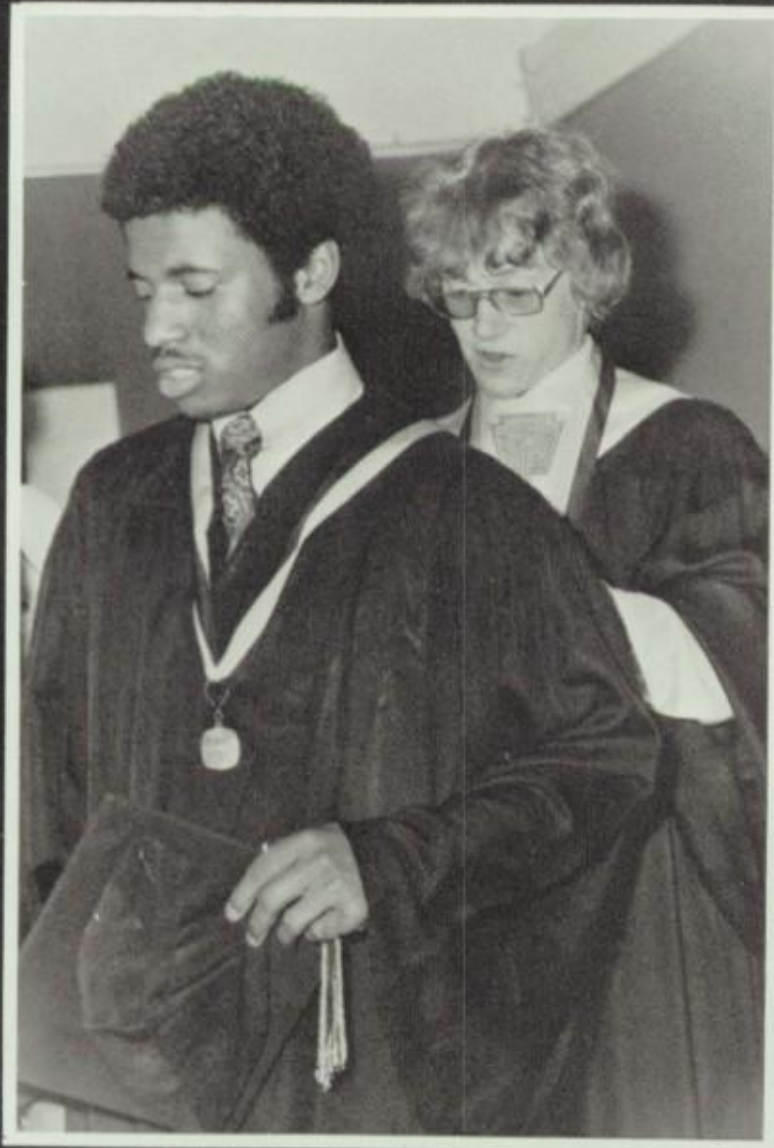

There are many people like me who tried to make CHS a better place. As part of a group, I presided over a meeting, lead yells at a basketball game, made a basket, broke a track record, marched in the band, or just attended these activities. I will always be an integral part of CHS, for without me and my group there would be no CHS.

Dinah Wright gave her Valedictory speech on the senior motto The Windows Of The World Are Open To Those Who Look Out.

"I'm part of a group"

Juniors Larry Hubbard and Dave Elcessor light their candles for their part in the ceremony.

Don't be dismayed at good-byes. A farewell is necessary before you can meet again and meeting again, after moments, or lifetimes, is certain for those who are friends.

FACES

Senior Daze

Civics in Harding's class, Florida in the spring, a night at the Prom, senior skip day, and May 18 are some events that will linger in the minds of seniors for many years.

Senioritis struck early as many members of the class of '80 developed a "laissez-faire" attitude shortly after the new year. "Free day" was heard almost daily as seniors tried to talk their teachers out of class work.

However, seniors did work hard on extra-curricular activities. They combined their talents to display an excellent hall decoration, which won first place at Homecoming. The seniors pulled together off school grounds, as "Our Gang" t-shirts were often found at Clara's after basketball games. They always seemed to be busy doing something, leaving very little time for homework. This was the seniors last chance to enjoy high school.

Juniors Had A Bang Of A Year!

Although the class of '81 wrecked almost 25 cars this past year, they still had a smashing time.

The jrs. were busy all year long. By selling magazines, they rolled in a lot of money for their Prom, which turned out to be a blast. Homecoming and the Prom took a great deal of hard work, and it wiped out a lot of their free time also.

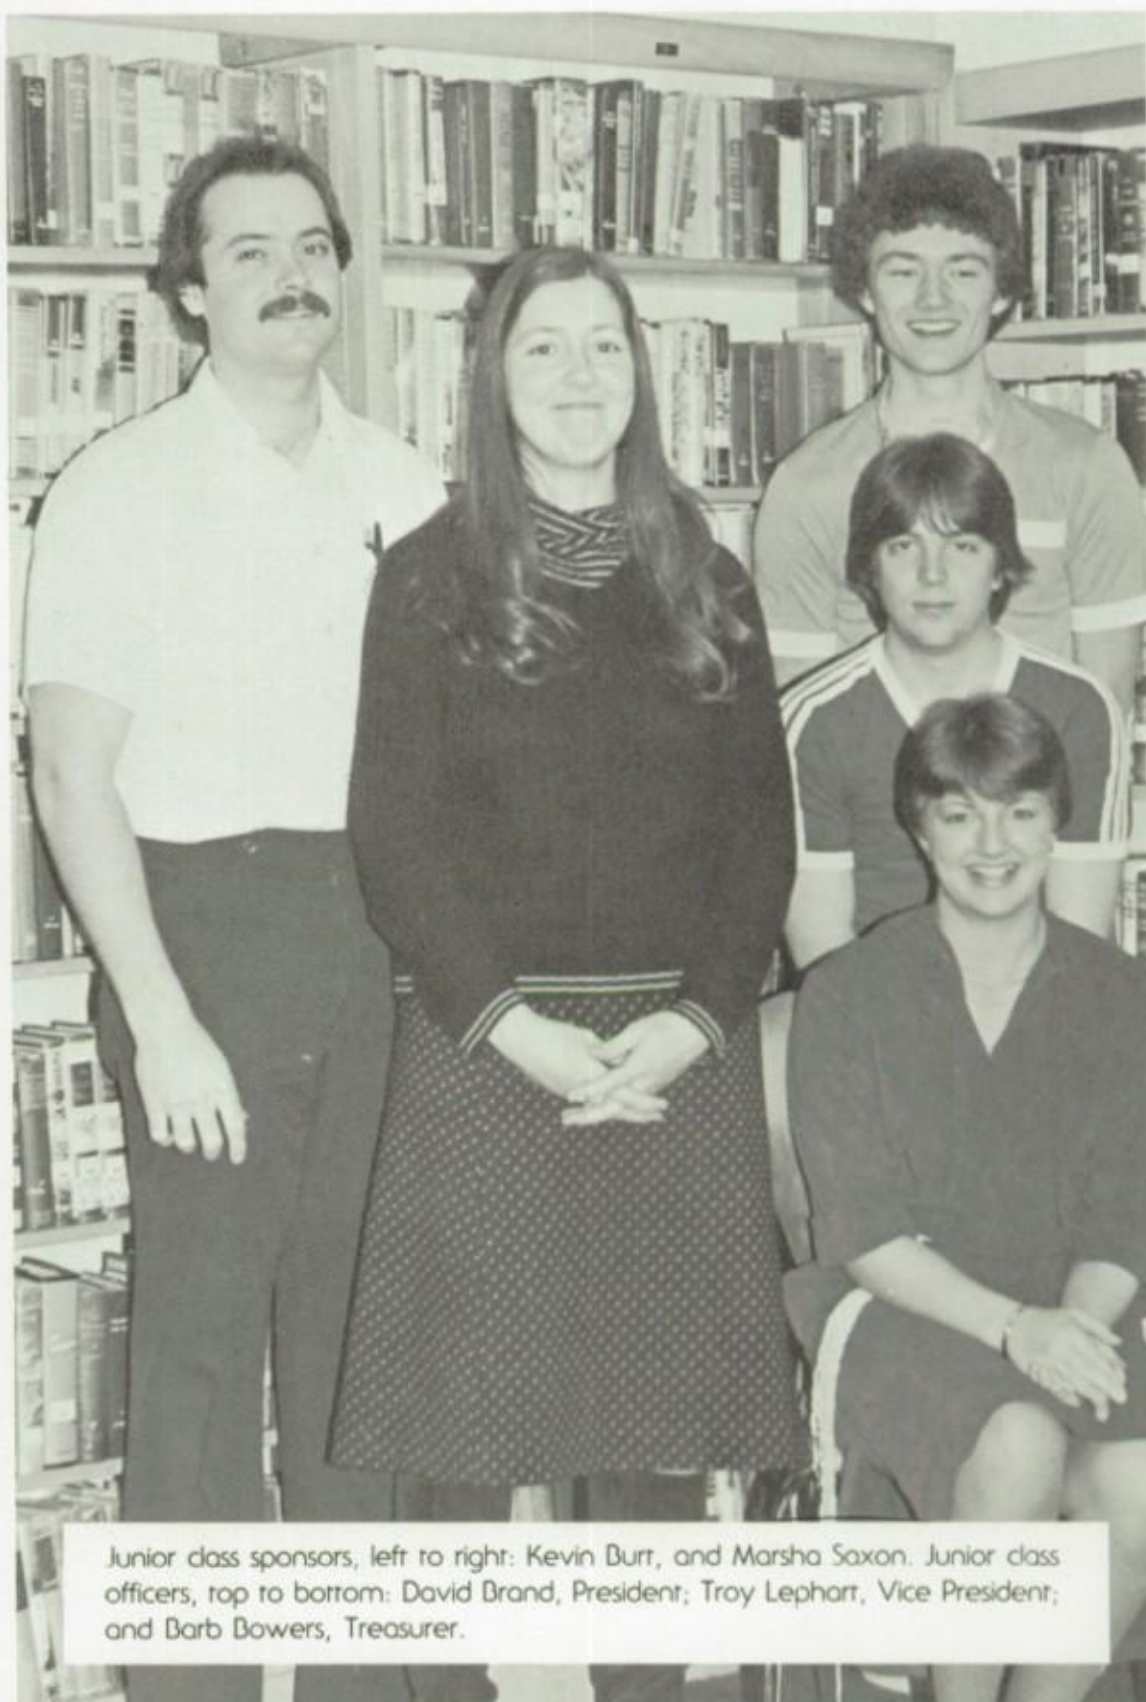

When talking with members of the junior class, their main response was that they couldn't wait until next year. When asked why, Troy Lephart replied, "SP will return, taking on a new meaning from sophomore power to senior power."

This class will always be loyal and dedicated, and will never be broken up.

Bright Sophomores

Basket by Miller. Rebound by Rowles. Sprint Star Rawlings Breaks Tape Again. Rafferty Claims Another Blue Ribbon. Statements like these were commonplace among the sophomores, as they added their athletic prowess to the Cowan High teams. The class of '82 etched their names in the scripture of the Cowan sports program, and many more will in the future.

Also looking to the future, they sold candy in hope of making their prom one of the best in Cowan history. Their willingness to work hard toward a common goal was very evident on this project.

Individual hard work showed through as 14 sophomores were inducted into National Honor Society. Their academic ability has been a credit to Cowan High School.

Mr. Cothren, one of the class sponsors, summed it up best for the class of '82 by complimenting them on their athletic involvement, academics and dedication to the school.

A Beginning

It was the first year of high school and a time of many new and exciting experiences for the freshmen. They had the opportunity to become involved in a wide range of activities and clubs that weren't open to them before. It was also their first chance to choose the classes that they were interested in taking. They demonstrated their ability to work hard and effectively together by winning first place in the Homecoming float contest. The freshmen are just beginning to feel that they belong here, and they have three more years to enjoy the people and activities.

Problem Solvers

Student Council made an improvement at Cowan High by solving the problem of our lunches. Many students had complained of the quality and quantity of the food served in the cafeteria. The Council appointed a committee of members to talk to Mrs. Zimmerman, the manager of the lunch room, about the food question. After this meeting, our diet improved.

The yearly convention is put on by the Student Council. In this yearly event, 20 people from each class, as members of the Nationalist and Federalist parties, hold a political convention to decide who they want to represent their party in the election of Student Council officers. As always the convention created great excitement and a lot of fun.

Federalist spy Kip Miller used a disguise to steal vice-presidency.

Getting Together And Sharing

The FCA membership has steadily increased throughout the last few years, and has grown to 54 in only its third year of existence. Most of these members were very active in the many activities throughout the year, such as evening meetings at the school, Christmas caroling, and Bible Study every Wednesday morning. The FCA is also responsible for delivering the invocation and benediction at the Athletic Banquet.

Although FCA stands for Fellowship of Christian Athletes, you don't have to be an athlete to be a member and participate in the many activities.

Scholars Learn More

Can you spell supercalifragilisticexpialidocious? Well, any member on the Skill Bowl team should be able to. In spite of early-morning before-school practices, and even though they had a losing season, everyone learned a lot and had fun.

National Honor Society is an organization for high school scholars. To attain membership, students must have a grade point average of 3.0 or better, then, the faculty votes on a student's merits.

The Cowan Chapter of NHS had a progressive dinner in the fall. Junior members were also topped in last fall. The Initiation Banquet was held March 18, at Morris-Bryant Smorgasbord. New sophomore members include Karen Bales, Angie Delk, JoLinda Ellis, Tabitha Gammill, Greg Harden, J.D. Clubs For The Future

Monroe Thrifty Workers (Girl's 4-H) had 165 projects last summer. Under the supervision of Mrs. Lamb and Mrs. Harden, 40 projects were in honor groups, 89 were blue ribbons, 31 red ribbons, and 5 white ribbons. State Fair entries from Cowan were: Mary Ann Clouse, Foods 2; Tammy Green, Foods 7; Kary Briggs, Arts and Crafts 4; Tammy Johnson and JoLinda Ellis, Home Furnishings. State Fair alternates include: Penny Madison, Separates; Gaye Modglin, Clothing 6 and 7; Gwen Ring, Foods 8; Jill Foster, Free Choice; Janice Lawson, Formals; Tammy Johnson, Personality; Laurel Ramey, Food Preservation; and Suzy Pope, Foods 3. In her last year of 4-H, Carol Zimmerman made a leather coat, and was selected as a State Fair entry. Hoosier Clod Busters (Boy's 4-H), under the supervision of Tom Gilland, participated in all fair events.

Future Homemakers of America (FHA) started the year off with the initiation of new members, followed by Christmas caroling with FCA, OEA, and other clubs. FHA sponsored the Homecoming dance, December 14. Other FHA activities included Daddy Date Nite, Valentine/Fondue party, and the Mothers' Day Breakfast. During National FHA Week, members treated the faculty to apples, roses, and breakfast; the entire student body also recieved suckers. Also, several members and chaperones went to Indianapolis for the FHA State Convention.

The Office Education Association (OEA) sent students to the district contest, and the president, Brenda Turner, placed in Accounting II. They also held their annual rock-a-thon for Special Olympics.

Under the direction of Ms. Saxon, the Art Club did a lot of new things last year. They displayed many different art projects at the Art/Music Festival. After the program they joined the choir for a reception with punch and cookies. May 12, at the P.T.O. Carnival, several members dressed up as clowns who sold balloons. The Art Club completed the year with a bowling party.

Library And Science Skills

The Science Fair went over smoothly this year with many projects on display. One in particular, by Thomas Smith, won second place at the Regional competition held at Ball State.

Librarian Lois Jeffers had a fine group of students who helped with the library chores, and in operating the video tape machines. Every month the librarians decorated a bulletin board behind their desk, very differently and uniquely each time. VTR operates taped the basketball games and other school activities.

In the spring, the Germans celebrate Faschings Fest. It is similar to our Halloween. German Club had a party and came in costumes, which ranged from Little Bow Peep and her sheep to a Samurai Warrior. The evening was completed with refreshments and games.

Spanish Club had a Mexican lunch in the Home Ec. room. The lunch consisted of chicken and beef enchiladas, Mexican meatballs, tortillas, quesadillas, guacamole dip, fresh fruit and lemonade. By afternoon everyone was stuffed with food.

In Spanish class, there was a Mexican Market, where pairs of students set up shops ranging from restaurants to hardware stores. Students decorated signs, and became shopkeepers. They were given a grade on how well they bartered and sold, and on their preparation and originality.

More Room For Journalism Staffs

Michael Dawson was the perfect businessman. Other than running errands, he was a master the of finances for both staffs.

Sure, there was work. Nobody doubts that. There were times when we thought there was nothing else. Between deadlines and writing copy, which is what this is, we thought we were going to go crazy.

Although times were rushed, we still had fun. It was always nice to get out of routine work, even if it was very seldom. Such special events included the Christmas party/gift exchange, selling ads in Muncie, and other rare occasions.

The most memorable event was when Tod accidentally dropped a typewriter. In dropping it, the apparatus was dismantled into three separate pieces. The yearbook staff teased him about it all year.

In the past, both journalism staffs have been in the same room, under the direction of Lucille Shesler; however, there was a change in the preparation of this book. Anira Kulman was the advisor for yearbook, while Lucille Shesler still worked with newspaper. By having separate rooms, we were able to produce a better yearbook and newspaper. It gave us more space to think, and more space for all our stuff, even a broken typewriter.

POMP AND CIRCUMSTANCE

One More Time

The band and drill team participated in several marching and concert contests. Even though they worked hard, and with a lot of enthusiasm, they only recieved second place ratings. Along with participating in contests, the band was asked to perform during Ag day activities. The last event of the school year was commencement excercises, and that wasn't a record you heard; it was the band. At this special performance, the seniors were graduating, therefore Mr. Byrd had to bring 7th and 8th graders up to the high school level. Because of a new band director, the band definitley improved over previous years.

Under the direction of Linda Weaver the choir performed for various occasions. Singing at school functions included the variety show, at P.T.O. meetings and for the Lions Club Beauty Pageant. They also performed at a banquet at Kings' Smorgasbord. Most of the members entered the Indiana State Music Contest. Everyone did a good job.

Our Sixth Man

TV sports announcers comment about the home team's "sixth man," that is the cheering section that helps their team pull out a victory in the crucial seconds of the contest. Head basketball coach Ron Slaton had nothing but praise for this year's "sixth man." He commented, "They're great. They really helped the boys out in the close ones."

The Spirit Mares are voted on by the student council. Their job is to promote spirit. They also provide the wrestling team with food at the Saturday meets. They decorated the bus for the away meets, and attended most of them. They attended the Sectional as well. Mr. Abel stated, "The Spirit Mares really helped the team, especially on the away meets when they were usually the greater percentage of fans that went to them."

This was the first year in quite a while that Cowan has had two mascots to represent the school, Jerry Johnson and Molly Keith.

This year's Spirit Council consisted of Mr. Hanaway, Mrs. Bayman, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Range, Mr. Byrd, Mrs. Campbell, Ed Shirey, Bill Ulrich, Gwen Ring, and Julie Garrett.

Varsity and B-Team cheerleaders display one of the many stunts that they have accomplished over the year. Varsity cheerleaders consisted of four seniors, Captain Julie Garrett, Shelley Holeman, Kim Miller, and Lynn Wagner, and two juniors, Lynn Shockley and Donna Craig. B-Team cheerleaders consisted of one junior, Captain Pam Sayne, and four sophomores, Lisa Gillentine, JoLinda Ellis, Lori Brandon, and Tammy Lindsay.

The Varsity and B-Team cheerleaders cooperated this season to back the Blackhawk teams. With the responsibility of leading the Pep Club, the cheerleaders met every day to improve their skills.

Many hours were given to making signs or special treats for the boys. The girls also spent many hours after school preparing skirts for pep sessions, and decorating the halls.

The Varsity and B-Team cheerleaders attended Indiana University's Universal Cheerleaders Association Cheerleading Camp last summer. While they attended the camp they earned three superior ribbons and two excellent. They also won a "Spirit Stick" which is the first one Cowan has ever won.

The freshman and jr. high cheerleaders continued to raise school spirit over the year. Yelling at games wasn't the only way the three squads raised the students morale. They spent hours decorating the halls and having spirit days. The cheerleaders not only supported the basketball teams, but also the other less attended sports.

36 Runners Train Long And Hard

This year's varsity and reserve squads had 21 members on their roster. This is a much larger number than most Cowan teams have had in the past. With only three members graduating from a team that placed third in both the Conference and County meers, Coach Everett can look for improvement on a 5-win 5-loss record. Top runners on the squad were senior Ray Rodenberger and freshman Kim Morris.

After winning the eighth-grade County Championship the past two years, you might think a 2-win 6-loss season would be a disappointment. But success isn't always measured by wins and losses. This year's jr. high was very successful in that they never gave up. By the end of the season each of the 15 members had improved his or her time.

Mace Makes All-Conference

B-Team Coach Jane Lambert's crew had a very successful year, both in the won-loss columns and in gaining experience for future varsity years. They ended up with a record of 10-6, winning the last 9 out of 10 games of the regular season. Sophomore Roxanne Rowles won the Most Valuable Player award, and classmate Angie Delk received Most Improved Player.

The Varsity team didn't fare as well on the scoreboard, and is going to be losing quite a few graduating seniors. Kelly Mace leads the fine group of underclassmen that will be returning to the team. Kelly made all-conference, and was voted Most Valuable. Lynn Shockley received Most Improved Player. Coach Chapel is excited about the outlook of the next few years.

Miller Earns All County And All Conference

First year Coach Ron Slaton led the varsity Hawks to a 3-16 season. The young Hawks showed good promise in the conference, with all of their three victories coming against conference foes. They defeated Daleville twice and downed Wapahani, all by a three point margin. The leading scorer and rebounder was sophomore Kip Miller, who earned All-County and All-Conference recognition for his efforts. Coach Slaton feels that next year's team will benefit greatly from the experience gained during this year's season.

Young Hawks Have Winning Season

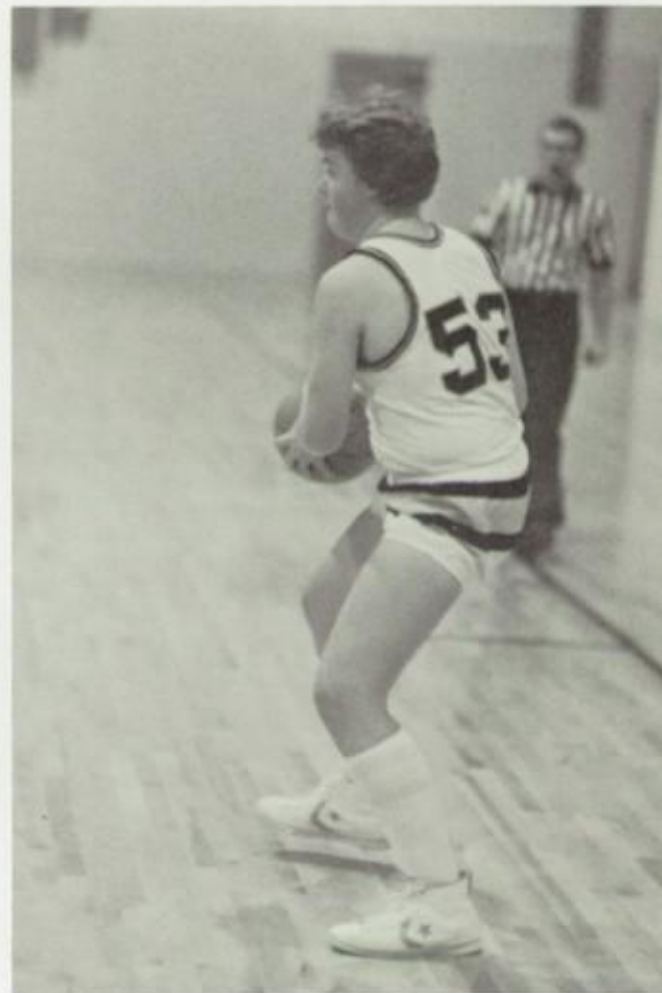

Finishing with a record of 5-4, the Freshmen basketball team had a great year, with the able coaching of John Harding, who has been coaching for 30 years, these young men learned the fundamentals and all things which are essential for future years in Blackhawk uniforms. Mr. Harding said that the members of his team improved one-hundred percent in all phases of the game, from the beginning of the year, and they started working as a team very well towards the end of the year. This is reflected by the fact that they won the last 4 games during the season.

Under the direction of Larry Stevens, the B-team had a year of success, ending the year with a record of 11-7. Mr. Stevens thinks the team members made definite strides in the right direction for next year's Varsity team, and that the team spirit and enthusiasm made his first year as assistant coach a joyous one. The team consisted of four juniors and eight Sophomores.

Female Hawks Victorious In First Round Of Sectional

They were defeated by a rough Wapahani team in the semi-finals. Susan Smith was named to the all-county team for her efforts. Kelly Mace received honorable mention. Freshman Janelle Johnson also received a great honor by being named to the all-sectional team by the Muncie Star.

The B-team had a fine season finishing with a record of 6-wins 9-losses, making the future for the female Blackhawks very bright. Leading scorer for the squad was Janelle Johnson, before the talented freshman was moved up to the varsity near the end of the season. The leading rebounder was sophomore Roxanne Rowles.

Coach Abel had plenty of praise for the 7 young men on the team at the end of the year. He said they worked very hard, and won certain matches they weren't supposed to, but the team lacked consistency. Mr. Abel and his assistant Mr. Adams think the school has excellent potential as far as talent, and would like to encourage people to come out. Barry Campbell won the sectional, but was defeated in the first round of the regional by the state champion, Mike Niccum, from Delta. Barry ended the year with a great individual record of 15-4.

Miller Goes To Regional

The Boy's Varsity track season was one filled with fine performances, both individual and team. Two athletes set school records in their respective events: Doug Zimmerman in the 800-meter run, with a time of 2:05.9, and Kip Miller in the high jump at 6'5". The 400-meter relay team also set a school record of 47:1 seconds in the first year for this event. Relay team members were Troy Lephart, Paul Ulrich, Tod Reed, and Doug Zimmerman.

The entire team put in a great overall effort to finish a close third in the race for Conference meet champion. The team's effort was helped along by Conference winners J.D. Lee, pole vault, Kip Miller, high jump, and Jeff Rawlings, high hurdles. Jeff also placed a close second in the County, and Kip third. Kip placed second in the sectional and went on to compete in the regional at Fort Wayne.

Sandy Clark Competes In Olympics

The Girl's Varsity Track season depended greatly on youth and inexperience. The team consisted only of freshmen and sophomores. These young runners had to battle extra hard against schools with more experienced juniors and seniors. Two freshmen and one sophomore qualified for the sectional: Sandy Clark in the 400 and 800-meter runs, Janelle Johnson and Roxanne Rowles in the discus.

After track season was over, Sandy Clark went on and competed in the Junior Olympics Sectional at Huntington. There she finished second in the 800-meter run, and third in the 400-meter run, qualifying her for the state competition.

Missy Tolbert and JoLinda Ellis sprint over the hurdles to beat their opponents.

Goal Is To Regain Crown

The Blackhawk baseball squad was the defending County Champion this past year, and the team, along with the new Head Coach Larry Stevens, was determined to repeat as champions. Their goal fell two runs short, as they were defeated by Yorktown 10-8 in extra innings during the championship game. The sectional was next for the Hawks, and once again they were knocked off by Yorktown, this time in the semi-finals 4-3.

Despite these setbacks, the entire team continued to play with enthusiasm and determination. With only one senior on the squad, the Hawks can look to 1981 to take revenge on the Tigers, and regain their crown as County Champions.

Mark Featherston wants to be heard above his teammates Rick Clouse, Gib Vance, Chris Bramwell, and Nick Carter, as they cheer on their team.

Jr. Blackhawks Work Hard

The seventh and eighth grade boys had identical seasons in many respects. Each finished the year with 0-win 12-loss records, but both teams also gained the experience needed to help make future Blackhawk teams victorious. The eighth grade girls basketball squad had a fine season, winning 6 games and losing 5. The seventh graders also had a good season, winning 2 while losing 6. These are exceptionally good years when you consider the fact that this is only the second year for girls Jr. High basketball. This was also only the second year for girls Jr. High volleyball. The girls worked hard throughout the season learning the basic skills needed to compete in the sport of volleyball.

Girls Have Great Season

The Girl's Jr. High Track team had a very successful year, under the direction of first year coach Jane Lambert. Loosing only one meet and finishing third in the county are just a couple of reasons why the future of the Girl's Varsity Track team looks bright. The most valuable runner, Kim Smothers, led the team to a 5-1 record.

The Boy's Jr. High Track team didn't fare so well, finishing 0-6. The boys gained experience for later years. Coach John Cothren will have a lot of quality runners coming back. Next year the record should be better.

FACULTY

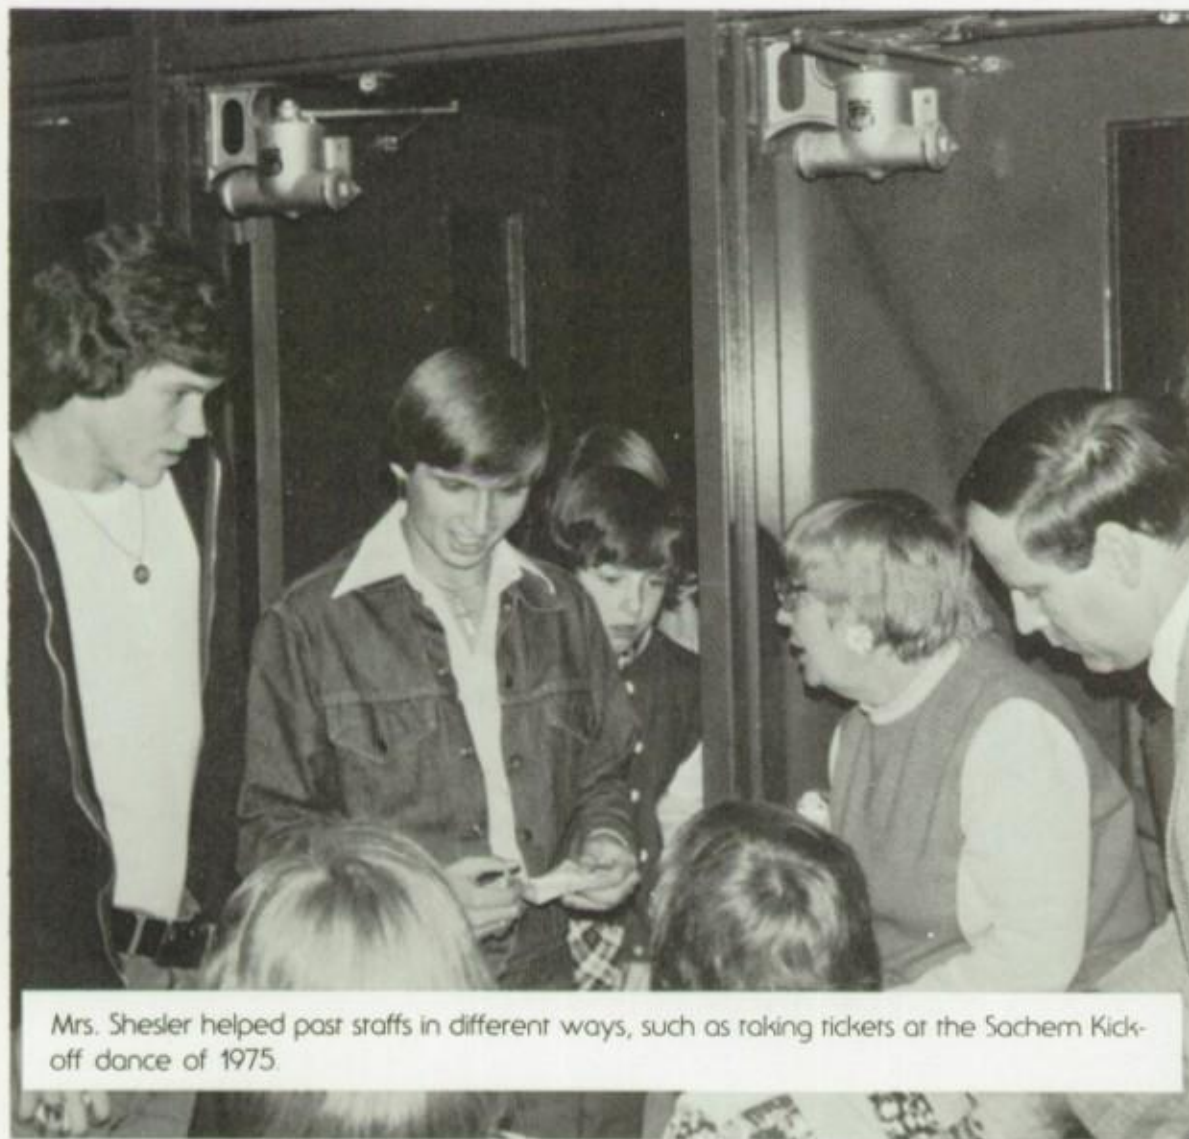

Dedication And Devotion

Mr. Nicholson presented Mrs. Shesler with a certificate for her outstanding service.

Several years ago, dedications were a tradition at Cowan High School. This tradition was broken because it became unfashionable. This year we decided it should be brought back to honor a very special person, Mrs. Lucille Shesler. Mrs. Shesler served as yearbook advisor for 16 years and is presently advisor of the newspaper staff. During her years as yearbook advisor, she spent many hours of patience and hard work. Holding the position for such a long time, Mrs. Shesler proved her great dedication to the past yearbook staffs. Considering all facts, the yearbook staff of 1979-80 dedicates the 1980 Sachem to Mrs. Lucille Shesler. Thanks for all your help!

As English teacher and journalism sponsor, Mrs. Shesler gave awards to her exceptional students in both areas on honor night.

Mrs. Shesler helped past staffs in different ways, such as taking tickets at the Sachem Kick-off dance of 1975.

WINCON SYSTEMS CONTROL INDUSTRY

Wincon systems have become established in many facets of industrial control including the automotive, aircraft, rubber, paper processing, steel and glass industries.

Since 1971, Richard L. Winkle and his staff have acquired a reputation for quality of workmanship and a knowledge of application with expertise in supportive electrical and electronic systems. These span the subminiature circuitry assemblies to large consoles and multi-doored free standing control systems.

All systems produced by Wincon are tested with simulated operating conditions for dependability and performance before being incorporated with the specific application for which they were designed.

The 1979-80 Sachem staff wishes to recognize the eleven years of loyal and dedicated service given to Cowan School by Nancy LaWall.

The year was marred by her death. It had a great impact upon the administration, faculty, student body and community.

Nancy LaWall was liked by all and will be sorely missed by everyone.

We all need time to be alone, to think . . . to dream . . . to wonder.

Every now and then,
when the sun's at your back and the
wind's in your hair, you can almost hear the times of the past.

You can hear yourself breathing hard as you round the dirt spots you called first base, second base, third base, home.

You can hear
a bunch of your friends laughing and waiting for school days to end, so you can go out and run around.

You can hear
the sounds of the house settling at night.

"Where did you go today?"

"Out."

"What'd you do?"

"Nothing much."

But even with those nothing much days, you still find a lot to look back on.

To My dearest sister,

Well I am the first one to sign your year book (it's not that great) :
Well sis you makin' up that latter of school years. I wish you all the luck in the world and I hope you very happy. We have had our disagreements and our fun times and we've hated each other and loved each other, but all in all were still sisters and I love you. Good luck always and make the best of your school years, remember you only in high once. :)

or just your bun's

!!

Love ya always your sis
Tracy
